

This fast responding heater delivers up to 1300°F air through a protective metal shell. The larger geometry allows for a greater volume of air to be heated than in previous designs. This stand alone design can be run without a housing making it an economical choice and perfect for smaller scale applications.

Features:

- Air Temperatures up to 1300°F
- Stand Alone Design
- Fast Response
- Economical

Performance Characteristics:

